

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Maderas-Cienc Tecnol journal is published by the Wood Engineering Department of the University of Bío-Bío in Concepción, Chile.

Maderas-Cienc Tecnol journal provides a means for the publication of original papers and technical notes on practice and research in all fields of Wood Science and Technology. It also included, previous editorial approval MSc or Ph.D. thesis abstracts, letters, book reviews, conference reports, etc. in Wood Science and Technology.

No paper should be submitted to any other journal for prior or simultaneous publication. All articles will be refereed by at least two reviewers under double blind system.

Articles may be written in Spanish or English and should include: title page, abstract, keywords, text, references, tables, and legends to figures. The English version of the title must be included if the paper is written in Spanish. At the footer indicates full authors affiliations, ORCID number and address of the Laboratory where the research was carried out, in addition to specifying the electronic address of corresponding author.

Title. It should include (on separate lines): title of contribution; authors; names; affiliations; addresses.

Abstract. It should follow the title and should be a factual summary of the paper drawing the attention to any new information. It should stand on its own, giving a true indication of the entire content of the paper stating the purpose of the contribution, its methods, the findings and the main conclusions.

Text. It should be divided into: Introduction, Materials & Methods, Results & Discussion and Conclusions.

Introduction. It should define the problem and the framework of the existing knowledge.

Materials and Methods. It must be a precise description of the use procedure to encourage others scientists to repeat the same work.

Results and Discussion. This section must include only the aspects relevant to the subject, these should not be duplicated in charts and figures. It should interpret the results according to the problem outlined in the introduction and related observations from the authors or other scientists. Implications for further studies or applications may be discussed.

Conclusions. They should be shown if results and discussion of the subject problems were answered.

Authorship contributions. To state individual author contributions according to CRediT:
<https://credit.niso.org/>.

References. Should be cited in the text by giving the author's surname and year of the publications. References should be listed at the end of the text in author's names alphabetical order.

For example:

Journal article (journal name in cursive)

Belleville, B.; Iru, R.; Tsiritsi, C.; Ozarska, B. 2020. Planing characteristics of Papua New Guinea timber species from plantations and regrowth forests. Eur J Wood Prod 78(2): 343-349. <https://doi.org/10.1007/s00107-020-01495-z>.

Book (title in cursive)

Zabel, R. A.; Morrell, J. J. 2020. Wood microbiology. 2nd Edition. Academic Press.
<https://doi.org/10.1016/C2018-0-05117-8>.

Thesis

Florisson, S. 2021. Moisture-induced stress and distortion of wood: A numerical and experimental study of wood drying and long-term behaviour. Ph.D Thesis, Linnaeus University, Department of Building Technology, Vaxjo, Sweden. <http://lnu.diva-portal.org/smash/get/diva2:1536993/FULLTEXT01.pdf>.

The international system units (SI) must be used. Symbols should be normally typewritten, in italics. Their meaning should be clearly identified or explained. All equations should be numbered consecutively using numbers in parentheses on the right-hand margin.

Figures, tables, drawings, photographs, illustrations should be used with discretion and included in the text. Their position within the text it must be clearly indicated. Manuscripts should be typed double-spaced in Times New Roman size 12. The original should be limited to 20 pages.

Contributions to this journal including letters, typescript or information on events should be sent in electronic file MS Word o compatible and submitted to the Editor by email to: anantias@ubiobio.cl. Or electronic submission through the website <http://revistas.ubiobio.cl/index.php/MCT>

Similarities in each manuscript with Ithenticate software will be examined, and originals under 24% similarities will be accepted for evaluation, excluding citations and bibliographic references. After manuscript evaluation, the revisions due are from 6-weeks (Minor revision) to 12-weeks (Major revision).

The papers accepted will be published firstly online in version ahead-of-print (AoP: Accepted authors version). The final version of each accepted paper will be published online continuously. The printed version of the publishing, will be compiled every three months.

Maderas-Cienc Tecnol journal are reserved all rights to reproduction of the contents. The content of the articles published in each issue of the Maderas-Cienc. Tecnol journal is the responsibility of the authors and does not necessarily represent the thought or compromise the opinion of the Universidad del Bío-Bío. The authors will retain their copyright and guarantee the journal the right to first publish their work, which will be simultaneously subject to the CC BY Creative Commons Attribution License.