

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Maderas. Ciencia y tecnología journal is published by the Wood Engineering Department of the University of Bío-Bío in Concepción, Chile.

Maderas. Ciencia y tecnología journal provides a means for the publication of original papers and technical notes on practice and research in all fields of Wood Science and Technology. It also included, previous editorial approval MSc or Ph.D. thesis abstracts, letters, book reviews, conference reports, etc. in Wood Science and Technology.

No paper should be submitted to any other journal for prior or simultaneous publication. All articles will be refereed. Maderas. Ciencia y tecnología journal are reserved all rights to reproduction of the contents.

Articles may be written in Spanish or English and should include: title page, abstract, keywords, text, references, tables, and legends to figures. The English version of the title and the abstract must be included if the paper is written in Spanish

Title. It should include (on separate lines): title of contribution; authors; names; affiliations; addresses.

Abstract. It should follow the title and should be a factual summary of the paper drawing the attention to any new information. It should stand on its own, giving a true indication of the entire content of the paper stating the purpose of the contribution, its methods, the findings and the main conclusions.

Text . It should be divided into: Introduction, Materials & Methods, Results & Discussion and Conclusions.

Introduction. It should define the problem and the framework of the existing knowledge.

Materials and Methods. It must be a precise description of the use procedure to encourage others scientists to repeat the same work.

Results and Discussion. This section must include only the aspects relevant to the subject. It should interpret the results according to the problem outlined in the introduction and related observations from the authors or other scientists.. Implications for further studies or applications may be discussed.

Conclusions. They should be shown if results and discussion of the subject problems were answered.

References. should be cited in the text by giving the author's surname and year of the publications. References should be listed at the end of the text in author's names alphabetical order .

For example:

Journal article (journal name in italic)

Astley, R.J.; Stol, K.A.; Harrington, J.J. 1998. Modelling the elastic properties of wood. Part 2: The cellular microstructure. Holz als Roh-und Werkstoff 56(1):43-50
Book (title in italic)

Zobel, B.J.; Jett, J.B. 1995. Genetic of wood production. Springer-Verlag, Berlin.
Thesis

Ding, F. 1999. The study of modern distributed parameter control: Application to lumber drying process. Ph.D. Thesis, Laval University, Quebec, Canada.

The metric system must be used. Symbols should be normally typewritten, in italics. Their meaning should be clearly identified or explained. All equations should be numbered consecutively using numbers in parentheses on the right-hand margin.

Figures, tables, drawings, photographs, illustrations should be used with discretion and included in the text. Their position within the text it must be clearly indicated. Manuscripts should be typed double-spaced in Times New Roman size 12. The original should be limited to 20 pages.

Contributions to this journal including letters, typescript or information on events should be sent in electronic file MS Word o compatible and submitted to the Editor by email to: anantias@ubiobio.cl. Or electronic submission through the website <http://www.revistamaderas.cl>.

A copy of the journal and ten separates of the article will be provided free of charge to authors.